IRISH OPEN WAY TO PEACE

S-5 CREW SAVED BY SHIRT POKED THROUGH HOLE

Tied to a Wire and Wigwagged.

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—A shark tacked on to a pole stuck through the hull of the partly submerged craft was the distress signal that brought the rescue of the forty men on the submarine S-5. It was learned tonight from the captain and other officers of the Panama liner General W. G. Goethals, when it arrived at Hoboken, after having been the factor in saving the lives of the crew that was hoisted under water for thirty-five hours.

The ingenious little band of navy men, knowing their only hope of rescue was in getting a signal above the surface of the sea, bored a five inch hole through the double hull of the submarine, near the stern, and then tied a wire, with the pole and shirt stuck to it, so that they could haul the wire and wigwag the garment to the surface.

Gives Honor to Engineer.

The story of the rescue of the four officers and thirty-six men was described by Capt. E. O. Swenson of the General Goethals tonight. He said the honor was due to William G. Goethals, the chief engineer, who cut and led the three-quarter inch plates of the submarine for six and three-quarter hours, until a hole was large enough to be wrenched open with a crowbar so that the forty prisoners could be taken out.

"At 5:30 p. m. yesterday (Thursday) we were forty-five miles east of the Delaware capes, with a calm sea and clear weather, when the lookout sighted the Albatross about seven miles away on the port bow flying signals of distress," Capt. Swenson said.

Tells Story of Rescue.

"I altered our course, and when the Goethals was close up we saw through the glasses that the Albatross had submarine S-5 lashed to its stern with two lines on the starboard side. The crew laid rigging a staving around the warf, which was about forty-five feet from the water at an angle of 60 degrees.

The boat was lowered from the Goethals, and I sent the chief engineer, chief officer, chief radio operator, and two doctors (one being the surgeon and the other, Lieut. Alfred N. Champion of Luling, Tex.) to board the Albatross, then which a mile away, to get the party from the commander.

"The informed the chief officer that he had arrived on the scene three hours earlier and found the S-5 had gone down in 50 fathoms of water with the crew resting on the bottom. His attention was attracted to the submarine by a pole sticking out near the stern which a wire was lashed.

"The crew got two lines around the submarine and hauled it up as possible to the side of the Goethals steamship so that it should not be submerged totally.

"The engineers got a small water pump into the hole in the hull of the submarine that had been chiseled by the crew and tried to pump air into the interior, but it did not do much. However, the moral effect on the crew of the S-5 was great as it made them understand they were no longer alone and that help was at hand.

"Occasionally a hose was inserted into the hole and drinking water was poured to them. This was very refreshing to the men in the stifling atmosphere of the hold they were in.

"A little later the boat returned to the ship," Capt. Swenson continued, "and William G. Goethals, the chief engineer, took the tools he required for his job and his first assistant, R. McMillan, went with him to lend a hand. At 7 o'clock everything was ready. Chief Engineer Grace started to work with his ratchet drill, making a hole about an inch away from the one made originally by the crew of the submarine.

EXPECT ANSWER TODAY TO RHODES MURDER PUZZLE

Husband of Woman in the Case Is Grilled.

Coroner Hoffman and Assistant State's Attorney John Prydzinski and James C. O'Brien announced late last night that sensational developments could be expected today at the inquest in Evanston into the death of Howard B. Rhodes, wealthy south side dry goods merchant, who was mysteriously slain on "Lovers' lane" early last Monday morning.

These developments, it was asserted, will throw much light upon the manner in which Rhodes came to his death. They may, indeed, even establish a plausible solution of the crime, which has so far baffled the efforts of more than a score of investigators.

The Principal Witnesses.

Among the principal figures in the case whose testimony may solve a number of the puzzles confronting the authorities are:

MRS. GLADYS VIRGINIA JACOBSON, Plymouth hotel, 4700 Broadway, the woman whose midnight auto ride with Rhodes ended in tragedy. Mrs. Jacobson has told several conflicting stories regarding the affair. She was told by Coroner Hoffman Thursday that unless she told the truth he would issue a warrant for her charging perjury.

RICHARD JACOBSON, her estranged husband. He is a program advertising man. He drives an $8,900 car and is host to numerous bright light parties. He was questioned by the state's attorney yesterday.

The MESSRS. ANDERSON and EKSTRAND and the MESSRS. ANDERSON and GEIST, members of the automobile party, who aided Mrs. Jacobson drive the car and its dying owner to St. Francis hospital.

Numerous farmers who live near the scene of the crime and who heard the shots will also offer their testimony, which is considered extremely valuable.

Gives Police New Clue.

Thomas A. H. Evanson, boy, held up on the Saturday previous to the shooting at Dempster street and East Prairie road, yesterday furnished the Evanston police with a new clue on the "phantom bandit" theory.

"There were two men," he said in speaking of his experience. "They had a big green car. One of the men stayed in the car. The other held us up. In the car with me was D. H. Mowry and two girls. After the bandit got our money he fired a single shot at the ground and disappeared."

Did Rhodes Fire Gun?

Among the perplexing points about last night's murder were various phases of the case:

How did Rhodes come to be hit in the right cheek and the right temple by the bullets—an obvious impossibility had he been sitting in the position described by Mrs. Jacobson? This was demonstrated by Coroner Hoffman.

Why Were Farmers Not Questioned?

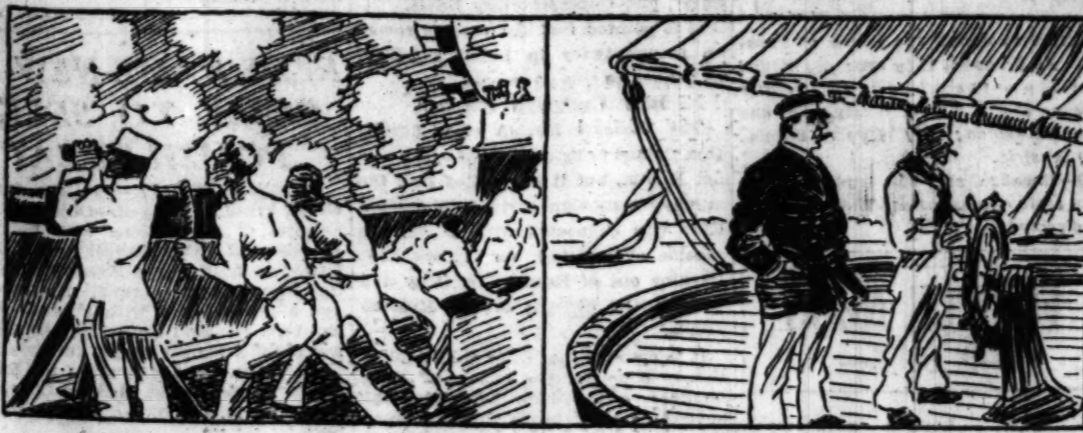

Why was it that no witness was made to question witnesses living near the scene of the crime before the first inquest into the affair was called? The testimony of five of these is now declared to be of the utmost importance. A reporter talked to them three days after the crime was committed, and found that no one had spoken to them about the murder. Chief of Police Leggett told Coroner Hoffman at the inquest that all persons living near the scene had been questioned, and that he had no further witnesses to call.

Why did Mrs. Jacobson declare it took her twenty minutes to start the car? Miss Emma Itoh, lying in bed fifty feet away, heard the horn honk twice and the car immediately get under way with a roar. The time between the first of the two shots and when the car passed her was "the pain and anguish of mind that has come to my aged mother."

OUT UNDER FIRE AS TREASURER OF MASSACHUSETTS

Boston, Mass., Sept. 3.—Fred J. Burrell tonight announced his resignation as state treasurer, and in a statement asked his "friends and well wishers" not to vote for his renomination in the state primaries next Tuesday.

His action followed the first public hearing today by a legislative committee appointed by Gov. Coolidge to investigate Burrell's conduct in office.

Several weeks ago it became known that Burrell had solicited advertising from banks in which state money was deposited, and with the crash of the financial dealings of Charles Ponzi and the consequent closing of the Hanover Trust company it was learned that the state had $125,000 on deposit in this bank.

A storm of criticism was directed at Burrell from within the Republican party, on whose ticket he was elected last November.

When the time for filing nominations for the state primaries had expired his was the only name to appear on the Republican ballot as a candidate for state treasurer.

At the request of the Associated Clubs of Massachusetts, James Jackson consented to oppose Burrell on stickers.

The Republican state committee, although not endorsing the other candidate, sent a letter to Burrell suggesting that he withdraw.

Burrell declared he would not do this, but in his statement tonight says he has "no further wish to hold public office," declaring he desires to end "the pain and anguish of mind that has come to my aged mother."

WANTED: AERIAL BOOZE CHASER

Ethyl and Methyl Turn Sky Bootleggers.

If, during the meditative toothpick hour, you chance to observe some evening the harvest moon is a bit full, or the dipper wears a nobby collar of foam, or the Pleiades seem to be walking the dog with Castor and Pollux to the palpably jazzy music of the spheres, or—

But don't hesitate. Grab the telephone and call Harrison 4700. Ask for the office of the federal prohibition enforcement commissioner of the central district. And then tell Maj. A. V. Dalrymple, who'll be at the other end. He'll call out the aerial flivver squad.

The New Heavenly Twins.

Don't be alarmed at the celestial phenomenon. No one has dropped a rain in the milky way. What you have observed is merely the presence of Ethyl and Methyl, now become the heavenly twins, and their noble old grandfathers, J. Harleycorn. It's like this: The family has forewarned terrestrial modes of conveyance for sky travel, and the traffic coppers and excisemen are not so curious along the milky way, it is said. Maj. Dalrymple, who has been watching the skies for some days, said last night:

"They're bringing the stuff into the United States from Canada in wholesale quantities by this new method. They thought they had us beaten, but we are going to show them we have just begun to fight."

Asks for Pursuit Planes.

The statement was issued at Detroit, where the major went yesterday to confer with Michigan agents. He said the Canadian government had promised to cooperate to stop the aerial bootlegging.

"I intend to ask the United States government for pursuit planes," he said. "We will establish air patrol stations at Detroit and at Chicago."

ARRESTED, FINED, WITHOUT SEEING A COP OR JUDGE

M. J. Blair of Winnetka was arrested and fined in Evanston without ever seeing a policeman or a magistrate.

Thursday night Mr. Blair came out of a store on Dempster street and found an arrest slip in his car for leaving it in the street without lights. It ordered him to appear yesterday in Police Magistrate John F. Boyer's court.

Blair failed to appear, but in his stead came a letter, enclosing a check for $1 to cover fine and court fees.

"If every one was as accommodating as that it would save us all a lot of trouble," Magistrate Boyer commented.

BRYAN GLAD BOTH "SCAMPS" CAN'T WIN ON NOV. 2

Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—William J. Bryan is undecided whether he will enter the political campaign in the interest of any candidate for the presidency. His plans, he said this evening, are not matured, and he is unwilling to make any predictions as to his future political activity.

"One main party is sure to be beaten," he said. "There is a man from the west who considers both majority party candidates such scamps that the only consolation he can find is that under present laws both of them can't be elected at once."

$175,000,000 Chemical Merger Plans Made Public

New York, Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Plans to merge five of the largest chemical companies in the country, whose capital at present, if combined, exceeds $175,000,000, were announced tonight by Dr. William H. Nichols, chairman of the board of the General Chemical company. Those to be merged are General Chemical, Barrett company, National Aniline and Chemical, the Solvay Process company, and the Smet-Solvay company. The proposal will be submitted to the boards of directors next Thursday.

Deschanel, Old, Nervous, Thin, Receives 2 Envoyes

RAMBOUILLET, France, Sept. 3.—President Deschanel, assisted by Premier Millerand, today received Senor Corjo, the new Peruvian minister, and Herr Eichhoff, the Austrian minister, who presented their credentials.

M. Deschanel appeared to have greatly aged since he fell off a railroad train. He is thin and today seemed nervous, but he was alert and apparently otherwise quite normal.

RAIL CHIEFS CHARGE REIGN OF SABOTAGE

U. S. Aid Is Asked to Stop Outlaws.

According to railway executives, the turning loose of a freight train in the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul yards at Grand and Chicago avenues Thursday night was only an incident in the campaign of sabotage which the "outlaw" Chicago Yardsmen's association and the United Engineers' association are directing against the railroads.

Here Are Some Charges.

Here is a summary of the railroad executives' charges:

Engines are being turned loose almost nightly; men who have taken the places of the strikers are being slugged; children of members of the "outlaw" organization who have gone back to work are being boycotted by their schoolmates; wives of the men who have taken strikers' places are being terrorized; and rooming house keepers in districts adjacent to the terminals have been warned that they must not permit any "strike breaker" to room in their houses under penalty of bombing; U. S. District Attorney Clynne has been asked for help under the Lever act but had given none; the city authorities had been asked for aid but have given none.

The railroad executives cite the following instances in support of their charges:

Slugged in the Last Ten Days:

R. Shope, switchman, C. M. & St. P.; Fred Murphy, passenger brakeman, C. M. & St. P.; Charles Cooney, switchman, C. M. & St. P.; M. R. Hess, yardman, C. M. & St. P. (watch and $45 taken and ordered to get off the job under penalty of another slugging); Leo Cooper, switchman, C. M. & St. P. (attacked by fifteen men, robbed of watch and money, and ordered to get off the job); Frank Barton, 60 years old, yardman, C. M. & St. P., and a long list of others.

Engines Turned Loose in Week:

Chicago Junction railway, Monday night, yard engine, ran two miles, narrowly missed passenger train collision.

Reck Island, freight engine, Wednesday night, collision with passenger engine, which was switched off, boarded it, and stopped it.

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, yard engine "stolen," ran mile and one-half, stopped when steam pressure gave out.

Fuel and Food Periled.

The railroad executives last night announced in what amounted to a joint statement, though individuals refused use of their names, that the situation threatened the fuel and food sources of Chicago. They added that unless the meetings of the radical "outlaws" were broken up so many men would be scared away from the railroad terminals that the Chicago switching district would be helpless in handling the traffic.

They declared that a Municipal judge had discharged an "outlaw" striker who was positively identified by W. D. Clark, a switch gang foreman, as the man who slugged him, and that this had discouraged the swearing out of warrants.

Women Told of Terrorism.

Mrs. Fred Anderson, 2411 West Adams street, told of an attempt to terrorize her the day after her husband went to work. She was called on the telephone, she said, and informed that her husband would be in the hospital before night because he was a "scab."

Later she was called and told that her husband was in the Austin boulevard hospital. Still later a cab drove up to "take her to the hospital." She already had started and still is wondering who sent the cab. Her husband was well and at work, but she was so unnerved that she has tried ever since—it happened a week ago—to prevail on him to seek other employment.

J. P. Stuart of the department of constabulary said last night that one of his men had checked the report that rooming house keepers would not give accommodations to men who had taken the outlaw strikers' places.

Don't Dare Rent Their Rooms.

"My men canvassed more than fifty rooming houses," Stuart said, "and in each instance they met the same rebuff: 'Where do you work?' was the first question asked. When informed they were working in railroad yards they were told: 'I wouldn't dare let

Lithuanians Drive Poles from North

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, Sept. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—A Kovno dispatch issued by the Lithuanian telegraph agency says Lithuanian detachments have attacked Polish troops and driven them back from 25 to 50 versts over the entire Grodno-Suwalki front. They also took prisoners and captured war materials.

The Lithuanians are reported to have recaptured yesterday Lipalig, Seiny, Krasnapol, Kolespinski, and Tschernowke. Lithuanian airplanes are reconnoitering. The advance is continuing. It is reported the seat of the Lithuanian government is shortly to be transferred to Vilna.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, Sept. 3.—An armed clash between Poles and Lithuanians is feared by the French foreign office as a result of the Polish advance north of Suwalki despite a Lithuanian protest.

Polish cavalry is pushing along the railway northwest of Suwalki and has advanced more than twenty miles, occupying Kalwary and sending patrols toward the Olita bridge over the Niemen river, which is the western gateway to Vilna.

Although the Lithuanians acclaimed the Polish entry into Suwalki and Seiny, the Lithuanian government asserts it merely rejoiced at the evacuation by the Bolsheviks.

The French government advised the Polish government to reassure the Lithuanian government and arrest its advance, as secret reports indicate the Lithuanians are mobilizing in the Vilna region and will oppose a crossing of the Niemen.

All the Reds have retreated from the northern region and are concentrating on the Grodno-Suwalki line.

Yanks Smash Bandits.

The American Kosciuszko squadron, as well as the Polish escadrilles, have been cited in an order of the Polish army for intrepid gallantry in the operations which destroyed Budyenny's army.

During the Red cavalry advance and now during its retreat the aviators, flying low, machine gunned the Bolshevik refugees, trapping masses of mounted troops crossing bridges and routing rear guard forces attempting to protect the retreat.

The wild Cossack horses are not trained to disregard the airplanes. The whirling propellers and roaring engines frighten the animals and scatter the cavalry when the machine gun cartridges drum are empty.

Reds Make Advance.

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Russian Bolshevik forces have occupied a number of villages from Lwow to twenty-seven miles north of Brest-Litovsk, according to an official statement issued in Moscow yesterday and received here by wireless. Further south soviet forces have advanced up to the town of Brest-Litovsk, the statement says.

Further south the Bolsheviks occupied Zamoc, forty-five miles southeast of Lublin, on Aug. 28, and in the Lublin region are said to be holding up attacks by the Poles, who, it is admitted, have "started to advance." In the neighborhood of Buczacz, Eastern Galicia, the Bolsheviks have flung Polish troops back to the right bank of the Dniester river, the statement says.

Fighting is proceeding with alternating success and with some severity in the Crimean sector.

ACTING CHIEF OF "REPUBLIC" WANTS AN OFFER

British Weigh Plan to End Anarchy.

BULLETIN.

BELFAST, Ireland, Sept. 3.—A light cruiser and the torpedo boat destroyer Mynas have arrived in Belfast harbor to prevent damage to shipping, should rioting break out again. Another battleship loaded with troops will arrive from England in the morning.

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 3.—Things are likely to move rapidly in a solution of the Irish crisis in the next few days. Bonar Law, who has returned to town and has taken up his duties of acting prime minister, is much interested in the statement of Arthur Griffith, "acting president of the Irish republic," that Dail Eirann—the Irish republican parliament—is ready to consider any offer from the British government, if made to it. Mr. Law considers the premier's statement before adjournment of the house as addressed to the Dail Eirann as much as to anybody else, but he is considering the advisability of addressing an offer to negotiate to the Dail direct.

Eyes Cork Strikers.

At the same time, Mr. Law has demanded a report from Ireland on the Cork hunger strikers who, it is not generally realized, are in a totally different class from MacSwiney, who has been tried and convicted. None of the Cork strikers have been tried, although some were arrested as long ago as July 5. This was brought to the government's attention and immediate action is expected either in bringing them to trial or in releasing the prisoners.

Archbishop Mannix also is continuing negotiations with the British government through an eminent British ecclesiastic for permission to go to Ireland as a peacemaker. The archbishop says he sees no future for Ireland outside of the empire, but insists on the fullest self-government within the empire. He is said to be willing to give his pledge to work toward this end, if allowed to go to Ireland, and he is anxious to go to Ireland before obeying the summons to go to Rome.

Sinn Fein Ready.

It is also evident now from reports received by the British government that the Sinn Fein is in a mood to make a bargain. The business of governing Ireland through the republican organization is proving harder than anticipated and is breaking down on the rock of finance. Dail Eirann recently ordered local authorities to withdraw their balances from all banks not friendly to the "republic," and it was discovered that, instead of balance, most had overdrafts.

Local authorities also are experiencing great difficulty in collecting taxes, the people declaring the citizens of the republic should pay no taxes. Consequently the authorities are unable to pay officials, who are being discharged in large numbers. These men formerly were the backbone of the republican movement, but now are disgruntled and are calling for a change of policy.

France Expels Envoy.

The foreign office today was notified the French government has expelled Gavan Duffy, "ambassador of the Irish republic," from France. No reason is given. Mr. Duffy was given twenty-four hours to leave France. He went to Brussels, appealed for a modification, and was allowed to return for two or three days to settle his affairs. All these straw points to early action along definite lines. Both sides are getting up against a stone wall of anarchy and are anxious to find their way out. The path should not be hard to find, given anything like good will on both sides.

Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney of Cork this afternoon began the twenty-second day of his hunger strike. His sister Annie said this morning there was a marked change in his condition. He is still fully conscious, but is losing interest in the outside world, and instead of newspapers, now demands that religious books be read to him.

Today his sister read "Meditation on Christ" to him. The prison doctor refuses to predict how long he may last, saying he has had no experience

HOYNE'S MEN SEIZE 25 MORE IN RESORT RAIDS

Hoyne detectives early this morning continued their raids on south side resorts. At the Grant Park hotel at Roosevelt road and Michigan avenue ten couples were arrested and sent to a detention house pending questioning. The doorkeeper at the Royal gardens, 461 East Third-street, was arrested for carrying a gun. In all about twenty-five arrests were made.

The detectives again visited the Mid-night Frolics, like Bloom's rejuvenated Freiberg's, but found no liquor. They searched tables, bars, and cubbyholes, but none of the real stuff was available. The same result obtained at the Entertainers' cafe.

When the state's attorney's men entered the resorts patrons left in a hurry. There were hundreds in the entertainers' when the raid was made.

Illinois Women to Get Separate Ballot Boxes

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 3.—Separate ballot boxes for women and separate primary tally sheets were ordered by Attorney General Brundage and Secretary of State Emerson in telegrams to all Illinois county clerks. This step is necessary because of the possibility of litigation over suffrage.

THOMPSON MAIN ISSUE IN CENTRAL PART OF ILLINOIS

G. O. P. Voters Keen to Beat Mayor's Friends.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Only one issue exists in central Illinois for the Republican primary showdown and that is the single proposition of Thompsonism. It is thoroughly understood—better possibly in the rural townships than in many city precincts—and the Republicans are all ready to vote. Were the state primary to be held tomorrow, according to all that could be learned in the state capital today, the candidates of the ticket that is opposed to the Thompson-Lundin slate would sweep the seventeenth congressional district.

The tide is so unmistakably toward the men who stand in the open against the city hall ticket that no claims are made in behalf of the mayor's favorites even by those who are known to be friendly to Col. Smith and Len Small.

"Crook" Charges the Last Straw.

The bottom went out of the still hunt campaign that had been made in behalf of some of the men on the Thompson-Lundin slate when Mayor Thompson in Chicago called Gov. Lowden a "crook." The immediate effect of the mayor's attack upon the governor was to first anger and then stir into exceptional activity Republicans here who know Gov. Lowden and who are thoroughly acquainted with the character of the state administration that is just ending.

The political result is that the main line of attack that has been directed against the Lowden administration and the state ticket backed by the governor—the public utilities war cry—has been practically eliminated, and the voting on Sept. 15 substantially will be a test between Gov. Lowden and Mayor Thompson.

Sangamon Safely Against Thompson.

Upon this basis, the Lowden forces expect to carry Sangamon county for the entire anti-Tammany ticket by majorities averaging 5,000. Both of the old fighting factions in Sangamon county, that headed by Richard M. Sullivan and that headed by Senator John A. Wheeler and former Senator Logan Hay, are working hand in hand for all candidates arrayed against Thompsonism. Leaders of these amalgamated elements assert no man on the city hall ticket will exceed 1,500 votes in Sangamon county.

In Macoupin county, of which Carlinville is the county seat, every member of the county commission is for the Oglesby ticket, it is asserted. In two or three of the coal mining towns in Macoupin the mayor's candidates have a better chance.

Christian county, of which Taylorville is the capital, is claimed as safely for the anti-Thompson candidates.

GIRL OF 12 MISSING 5 DAYS IS BELIEVED KIDNAPING VICTIM

When Nellie, the Shirley's dog, returned alone to the Shirley apartment at 617 South Leavitt street on Monday, Helen Shirley, 15 years old, knew that something had happened to her 12 year old sister, Leona.

The dog and Leona had been inseparable. Yesterday they went together to Mrs. J. Mark's delicatessen store, just around the corner at 2144 West Harrison street. The dog was in leash.

The girls were sent to live with their aunt three years ago, when their mother, Mrs. Frank Cosgrove of Pasco, Wash., was strangled in court charged with cruelty to her three daughters. The youngest girl, Rose, was kidnapped by her mother a year ago. They also attribute the disappearance of Leona to her.

According to the aunt, Mrs. Cosgrove is now living with her second husband in St. Paul or Minneapolis. She is not sure which city.

MAYOR DEFINES 'KIND OF PATRIOT BILL THOMPSON IS'

Mayor Thompson spoke at six big meetings yesterday and last night, and at each continued his attacks on Gov. Lowden and the Oglesby ticket. Frank L. Smith, candidate for senator, Len Small and others on the Thompson ticket also spoke at several of the meetings.

At the Grand Opera house the mayor defined patriotism as he understands it.

"I'll tell you the kind of a patriot Bill Thompson is," he said. "Bill Thompson is the kind of a patriot that beseeched congress to place an embargo on foodstuffs, save the surplus so that men, women, and babies of America would not starve and so that the war hogs might not fill their pockets with the millions taken from the pockets of the helpless in America. 'Bill Thompson's patriotism is the kind that demands that we bring our boys home from Europe and keep them home that we pay them the bonus which we owe them, and that we forever pledge ourselves against the making of any foreign entangling alliance.'"

After stating that his brand of patriotism is not the same as that of this Tammany and the Daily News, he concluded:

"Well, if Bill Thompson has got to jump to his feet and sing 'God Save the King,' to please THE TRIBUNE and the News, they can both go straight to hell."

THOMPSON CLAN IS BREAKING UP, M'CORMICK SAYS

The campaign of the Thompson-Lundin machine for the capture of Illinois has so disintegrated, according to Senator Medill McCormick, who spoke last night at Foster field, Evanston, that each candidate is now fighting for himself where two weeks ago they were fighting together.

"They began their campaign over the state together; they are finishing it separately," said the senator. "Each is seeking now his own friends and each his own nomination. When they leave the borders of Chicago they do not sing the praises of their partner in the city hall or seek the same platform with him."

On Labor day Lieut. Gov. John G. Oglesby and other candidates for state office on the anti-Thompson ticket will begin their Cook county campaign with a Republican rally at Riverview park.

Chicago probably will be given an opportunity to vote again on the proposed plan to redistrict thousands the city into fifty wards. Fifty wards, each. Petitions now being circulated already have thousands of names. Sponsors of the movement are confident the 35,000 signatures necessary will be secured. It is estimated that the proposed redistricting would save the city more than $500,000 yearly.

Michael L. Igoe, candidate for the Democratic nomination for state's attorney, was the central figure at a grand rally of Democrats at White City. County Clerk Robert M. Switzer presided.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden at a meeting in Freeport last night told how the Lundin-Thompson organization had attempted to talk at him and compel him to support the Thompson platform.

"When I saw the platform of the Lundin-Thompson organization and when I read its appeal to passion and prejudice and saw how it was compounded of socialistic doctrines and demagoguery and realized the effort being made to array one class of people against another," the governor said, "I felt it my duty to oppose it. I was told in no uncertain terms, however, that if I did I would incur the opposition of the Thompson-Lundin organization in the Republican national convention, but I replied that as much as I realized what it meant in the convention to have a divided delegation behind me the price they asked was too high to pay."

Perhaps you won't like the RELU—then again, it may be the very essence of all you like best in a cigarette.

Honestly though, we think you'll like it.

One thing is certain --- so many of your fellow-smokers have found that RELU rhymes perfectly with their smoke-appetites, you'll be passing up a mighty good bet if you fail to put the "smooth cigarette" to the taste-test!

Say "RELU" to your smoke-dispenser, and we feel very, very sure that the first taste will prove that here is your cigarette.

Lifting the Lid

I WAS told yesterday that if I announced my price this Fall at $3.85, it would turn the hat industry upside down and inside out—but I'm going to lift the lid and take the consequences. I'm going to sell hats without profit this Fall, and give the final wallop to the High Cost of Living in the High Price of Hats.

The public have been on a "Buying Spree" for the last couple of years, but they're on a "Buying Strike" today. I'm going to break that strike by breaking the price of hats.

If you'll help me bring 100,000 new customers in my stores this month you'll see the High Price of Hats begin to tumble, and you can get under cover right now for $3.85.

In the first place, the Fur Market is fictitious. The rabbits in Australia don't know anything about the price of fur in America. The fur that I bought four years ago at $1.50 a pound, is now quoted at $11 a pound, and there is no rhyme or reason that can justify this price.

Manufacturers whose raw materials advanced as the market went up have figured fur at the "peak" and quoted prices accordingly. They got "theirs" on the way up, and they don't want to let go on the way down.

The Retailer has paid what he had to, and charged what he wanted to, in order to pay the Government and make more money than he ever did before.

Buyers of Fur, Hat Manufacturers and Retailers have all got to get together to stop it, and someone has got to start it.

I'd like to have the Flying Squadron of the Department of Justice investigate my Prices and Profits this Fall, and compare the Style and Quality of my hats with other hats selling for twice my price. If they don't stop me for underselling the market, you can have any new Fall color or style, any shape or size, in any soft hat or derby, at $3.85.

NEWBERRY MADE ME OF COX DAY IN MICHIGAN

with a Heckler;
Chicago Today.

ROBERT B. SMITH.

Cox, Mich., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Breaking speed today, Gov. Newberry's attacks on the Republican financing, instilled $15,000,000 moderate estimate of what the existence of "a plot" to "ruin the nation."

The governor was up at dawn and a member of his staff gave a near platform speech to a crowd of railroad men at Toledo at 10 o'clock. He showed himself tireless campaigner and set a precedent for his 18,000 miles around the state. When he got up the day at Kalamazoo made sixteen speeches in two days.

Plays Newberry to the Limit.

Through Michigan the governor talked about Senator Truman Newberry, who was recently elected to the senate. The governor usually drew cheers when he spoke to him. "In saving Newberry from Newberryism," he said, "I come to demand that the state shall be saved from Newberryism multiplied by forty-eight. I come to give you help out the state."

Has Round with Heckler.

Cox had a lively time with him at Battle Creek. The governor was drawing a contrast between the election of Mr. Newberry and the election of Senator Lodge in 1896. "In 1896 and his present opposition to the treaty of Versailles," he said, "I don't think the logic of Newberryism in 1896 apply today?" he asked. "I shouted a man in the audience."

Why?" asked the governor.

Because the Wilson league was stuck in the treaty," answered the man.

What part of the league are you for?" queried the governor.

All of it," replied the man.

Then minute verbal duel ensued between the two men.

Heckler held his ground until the end.

IN CHICAGO TODAY.

Cox will arrive in Chicago today and spend several hours here before leaving for Milwaukee. He will arrive at the Illinois Center at 10:30 o'clock. Tonight he will be in Milwaukee and unless his plans changed, he will return to Chicago and remain here over Sunday. He will be in St. Paul and Minneapolis Monday.

NOTICE TO ALTER

TRADE TREATIES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—So far the state department was informed by a late hour tonight nothing has been done by President Wilson to the powers concerned that the United States intends to modify commercial treaties to conform with the merchant marine law.

Twenty-five such treaties are to be affected, and the law, signed by President Wilson, provided ninety days for the notice of notice. This time expires tonight.

It is claimed that the clauses affected restrict the of the United States to "impose discriminating customs duties" and to "discriminate against foreign vessels on goods, the latter on vessels sailing American ports."

Legion Is Charged Rent

Charges that the school board, and particularly its president, Edwin Davis, had refused, through disapproval for the American Legion, to allow the post to use a room or a hall for a week for meeting unless $18.50 was forthcoming, were denied by Davis yesterday.

We certainly do not make a profit from the rent," Mr. Davis said. "It only means the costs of allowing the use of the room, janitor service, and heat. We regard the legion as a part of the whole system."

The charges were made yesterday in a letter from Drexel post to The Tribune.

THIS is the seventh in the series of photographic reproductions of city hall time sheets showing the work of certain employees working at the Thompson headquarters during the primary election campaign for mayor in 1919, and received full pay for work they were supposed to be doing for the city.
This facsimile reveals that H. P.
Beiler, a $100 a month employe in the bridge department, was at work in Thompson headquarters on March 5, 1919, when he was supposed to be at work on the West Madison street bridge.

As indicated by the appointment of his salary in the upper right hand corner, no deduction was made for the time he was away from his work for the city. As shown by the time sheet reproduced in last Thursday's TRIB-UNE, Beiler was in "Thompson's headquarters" fourteen days in April, 1919, for which he drew full pay from the city as a bridge worker.

That this method of securing workers in the mayor's headquarters without expense to himself was not unusual, THE TRIBUNE will undertake to demonstrate further by other facsimiles of time sheets in subsequent issues.

COX ENVOY SAYS G. O. P. IS HIDING PART OF FUNDS

Charges that either the statements of the Republican national committee laid before the senatorial investigating committee are glaringly erroneous or millions of dollars collected for the campaign have not been reported to the treasurer were made yesterday by Edmund H. Moore.

Mr. Moore came to Chicago as personal representative of Gov. Cox before the committee, which reconvened next Tuesday, to continue its investigation of the charges of the Democratic candidate that a $15,000,000 slush fund was being raised by the Republicans to buy the presidency.

"I don't believe the Republicans will be able to raise their fund now that the people know of it," he said. "Their records show that only a little more than $1,000,000 has been collected. I believe that the only way to get to the bottom of the matter is to call the men who actually collected the money. Evidently the reports submitted are not correct or a lot of money collected has not been reported."

For the first time yesterday Mr.
Moore gave the name of the Atlantic business man who raised $25,000 in that city.

"C. W. McClure of Atlanta can tell the investigating committee that he raised the whole $25,000 quota for Atlanta before the convention."

GERMANS IN N. Y. WANT HARDING, EDITOR ASSERTS

New York, Sept. 4.—[Special.]—The Times this morning says:
"Existence of a city-wide movement on the part of voters of German descendant to support Senator Warren G.
Harding, Republican nominee for president, was revealed tonight. John Herring, editor of the Long Island Free Press, the only German newspaper in Queens county, announced that the Citizens' Alliance of Queens, an organization composed entirely of Germans, intended to support the Republican presidential nominee on the league of nations issue."

"Mr. Herring said the movement was well under way in the other buroughs, Manhattan, Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Richmond, and that organizations had been effected in Albany,
Nassau county, and Hudson county,
New Jersey. According to Mr. Herring, organizers from Manhattan were now working in New Haven and Bridgeport, Conn."

"We favor Senator Harding because we are opposed to the league of nations," said Mr. Herring.

POSTAL CLERKS TO PROTEST ACT OF BURLESON

"If you are satisfied, stay at home.
But if you are dissatisfied with insufficient pay and want more money, attend the joint massmeeting of federal employees in the Second Regiment
armory Sunday afternoon."

The above advice was scattered broadcast yesterday by postal employees advertising the meeting at which Postmaster General Burleson's dismissal of eleven officers of the Chicago Postal Clerks' union will be dicussed.

Among the speakers scheduled are Senator Harding, Senator McCormick and Congressman William E. Mason and Carlin B. Madden.

Gerard to Run Democratic Committee's Finances
New York, Sept. 3.—James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, has accepted the post of chairman of the finance committee of the Democratic national committee. He will supervise collection of Democratic campaign funds.

U. S. WILL MAKE WAR AN OUTLAW, HARDING SAYS

Near Shaft to War Heroes,
He Pledges Peace.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
Marion, O., Sept. 3.—[Special.]— Standing in front of a marble shaft erected in memory of the heroes of 1917 in the village square of Mount Gilead, in the county of his birthplace,
Senator Harding today pledged the ex-service men and townspeople late "his afternoon that if he were elected president he would "help America to do its part in seeing that neither they nor their sons nor their sons' sons ever shall be called to the battle front again."

"If I speak the conscience of America," he said, "we'll lead the world to outlaw war."

This was not the voice of a pacifist people, he reminded them, pointing to the marble shaft where are engraved the words: "To the memory of those who relinquished life that liberty might not perish."

Friendship, Not Surrender.
"If called to authority," he said, "I promise you to do all that possibly can be done to bring the world to better understanding and cooperation without surrendering a single thing essential to the freedom and independence of our own common country."

Senator Harding said if it had not been for the United States senate in its opposition to the league of nations "it is my honest judgment that this nation would today again be at war. I cannot see how any one can consent to allow the calling of the sons of this republic to arms at the behest of a council of foreign power.

"I warn you now that if the league of nations had been accepted as originally written we would have been committed in all honor to answer the call of the nations of Europe."

Harding Grets Farmers.
Earlier in the day Senator Harding received fifty farmers on his front porch, representatives of sixteen organizations with a membership of 2,000,000. Charles Barrett of Union City, Ga., chairman of the national board of farm organizations, was head of the delegation. Mr. Harding said he would work to cure land speculation and decrease farm tenancy.

"Long ago," he said, "when the responsibility for leadership in this fight we are making to put America back into the main road, was placed on me, I said to myself that we must all unite under the slogan 'America First'."

"When I say America first I mean not only that America maintain her own independence and shall be first in fulfilling her obligations to all the world, because she is the best, but because she is the best, but by preaching, but I mean that at home any special interest, any class any group of our citizenship that has arrayed itself against the interests of the must learn that at home, as well as abroad, America has a meaning profound, and with God's aid, everlasting."

CREEL'S 'HORN' COST THE U. S. FIVE MILLIONS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Liquidation of the affairs of the committee of public information shows that its net cost to the government during the war was approximately $5,000,- 000.

Total expenditures, says a report by the Council of National Defense director, aggregated $8,245,249 to June 30, 1920, but earnings from movie films, subscriptions to the government bulletin, and other sources brought the net cost to $4,964,200.

From appropriations for bureau expenditures $1,700,000 were refunded.
An interesting feature of the report shows that $1,448,000 was expended for propaganda in foreign countries. Salaries for the bureau, headed by George Creel, aggregated $1,250,000.

STRIKE SPIRIT WANING AMONG HARD COAL MEN

Several Locals Vote to Return to Work.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—The peak of the anthracite coal strike has been reached, is the belief of union officials, who have been opposed to the strike since its beginning and who were encouraged today by the voting of several local unions to return to work.

The fight between John T. Dempsey, president of district No. 1, and Edward Williams, the insurgent leader, has been one of the big issues in anthracite troubles for many months. The executive board of district No. 1 decided to ask Dempsey for his resignation and if he fails to resign before tomorrow he will be ousted.

Insurgents have been following Williams because they had no faith in Dempsey. The number of men idle today is 125,000. One hundred and thirty collieries are shut down and $550,000 in wages is lost daily.

Insurgents Gained Two Collieries. The insurgents gained two collieries in the Scranton region today and almost completely tied up the Hazleton and Shamokin regions. The independent collieries are working with half strength.

Many miners believe the purpose of the strike has been served in that they have made known to the world their dissatisfaction, but it is not likely the strike's backbone will be broken before Wednesday. The miners were called out Wednesday: 45,000 of the 175,000 workers are still in the mines.

New Appeal to Wilson. The locals are voting to go back, but the miners will not get a full representation from these organizations until after the week end and Labor day. Miners were impressed today by the news that the miners' scale committee, sitting at Scranton, appealed to President Wilson for a reopening of the negotiations and inspired the Dempsey counter-meeting.

PARLEY TO AVERT
ENGLISH MINERS'
STRIKE SEPT. 25

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] LONDON, Sept. 3.—Negotiations have been begun for prevention of the national miners' strike ordered for Sept. 25. Other unions are working hard to make the miners see reason and to induce the government to offer some concession, which it is willing to do if the miners agree to increase production.

On Sept. 6 the national trade union congress meets and will discuss the mine situation and probably will appoint a conciliation committee. If the strike takes place, there will be 155,000 unemployed the first week and 245,000 the third week.

Ten thousand members of the electricians' trade union will be locked out tomorrow as a result of a dispute over a new man. If not settled, it will affect 1,500,000 workers in the engineering trades and tie up lighting, street cars, and many other public utilities.

FUND FOR WIDOW

INCREASED BY $53

The fund for the family of Police Sergeant Martin J. Corcoran, who was killed by a robber, has increased an average of $100 a day since four days ago, when Julius Rosenwald started the ball rolling with a contribution of $1,000. Yesterday's subscription totaled $53, but the amount previously acknowledged brings the four days' receipts to $403, or $1403 so far received.

Harold Wakem left $25 at the detective bureau yesterday. Thomas "Spike" Hennessy donated $5. Other contributions were "A Tribune Reader," $1; H. C. L., $5; Anonymous, $2; Lela B. Ferguson, $10, and "W. E.," $5.

15,000 TENANTS
BAND TO FIGHT
RENT INCREASES

Fifteen thousand tenants have become members of the week old Chicago Tenants' Protective League, establishing a record in cooperative organization, according to E. F. Hammond, business manager. The growth, he said, is partly due to the merging of a number of tenant associations throughout the city.

"We find that the average rent increase for the fall is 100 per cent," said Mr. Hammond. "Tenants have come to realize that the only way we can fight the grasping landlord is to cooperate."

house she estimated as not more than three minutes. Thelens arrived at the road immediately after the shooting. The car was gone.

Was the slaying the culmination of attempts by a well organized black-mail ring with agents posing as private detectives to extort money—$10,000 in all—from Rhodes? Had he been trailed on the night of the murder by two men in a dark green car, who parked their machine on Mulford avenue behind a giant willow tree and sneaked across the intervening ground to a position in the bushes where they could spy upon the actions of Rhodes and Mrs. Jacobson? Who was the potential assassin who fired a 32 caliber bullet through a window of Rhodes' home on a night six weeks before the murder—at the moment when Rhodes' shadow was cast upon a window curtain?

What Does Jacobson Know? What does Jacobson know about the affair? Why did he appear on the stand so quickly and why has he since devoted every effort to substantiate his wife's original story?

All these questions are pertinent to the inquest this morning. Lieut. Rhodes, brother of the dead man, appeared at the state's attorney's office yesterday and made a plea for speeding up of the case. He protested at the manner in which the case was allowed to rest before the state's attorney and Coroner Hoffman started work.

Campus Notes

Prof. Leonard Eugene Dickson of the department of mathematics at the University of Chicago, who was recently elected a corresponding member of the French Academy of Sciences, has sailed for Europe as the official representative of the National Academy of Science at the London conference on international scientific literature, meetings of which begin Sept. 28 at the offices of the Royal Society of London.

Since there is no publication in the United States at the present time which covers the field of higher education, it is proposed to issue from time to time a supplement to the University Record. Its purpose will be to make easily accessible brief statements with regard to progress in higher education in this country and abroad. The editor of the Record and of the proposed supplement is associate professor David Allan Robertson.

"Tales of Mystery and Horror"

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

COME, children, 'tis the story hour. The supper things are cleared away, the log burns cosily in the chimney corner, and Mr. Maurice Level is going to gather you around his knee and tell you pretty bedtime tales about the knell, the shroud, the mattock, and the grave. Which one, from his plentiful store, should you like first? Something about epilepsy and the guillotine? Or that one of M. de Harvelev, who threw his wife's lover into a kegnet with forty mad mastiffs, (ugly fanged, stiff haired griffons of Vendee) and seared icily as he listened to his victim's death rattle above their rabid growlings?

Or shall we have a morgue story, or that old favorite, "The Last Kiss," wherein a lady's willow admirer applies the vengeful vitriol to her physiognomy, she having done the same for him a short time before. You know the one—"She fell, writhing—already her face was nothing but a red rag." Speak up, little folk, shall it be murder, suicide, infidelity? A fragrant idyll of an amorous headman, or a bright tale about a cadaver with blackened, grinning mouth and a red gash between its breasts? "The murderer stood unquivering before the marble slab," until a big bluebottle fly—

But perhaps you would care to know something more about the identity of this orphan Annie of the channel house, the author of "Mystery and Horror." According to Henry B. Irving's introduction, M. Level is 40, a gay, light hearted man, essentially Parisian in temperament, an out of doors chap, and a surgeon. His first story, "Two pieces of silver," in the dark she scattered the flowers on Vandat's tomb and hurried back to the hotel. "Hello, Blue Eyes," laughed one of the girls in the over-looked, smoke-filled hallway. "Did you know who you were with? No? Well, it was Le Bingle—Le Bingle, the Executioner!"

Let us, then, continue to be girl-ly unafraid and unprovincial and to proceed with this story of happy France, just as they would in a French house. Blue Eyes was haggard; the sharp angles of her body showed beneath her cotton dress, and her furtive invitations to romance tempted not even the casual American tourist.

"Finally she won," "Two pieces of silver," in the dark she scattered the flowers on Vandat's tomb and hurried back to the hotel. "Hello, Blue Eyes," laughed one of the girls in the over-looked, smoke-filled hallway. "Did you know who you were with? No? Well, it was Le Bingle—Le Bingle, the Executioner!"

The book is, as Mr. Irving infers, an armchair Grand Guignol; and, as any profound critic, discussing similar literature or drama will tell you, it has its purpose as a relaxing influence among the larger intellects. Morbid tales of silt white throats, of physical suffering and brutality, appease the gormless which is said to enslave the childlike bosoms of the great; and it is well to feed this lust for strong emotion with the harmless hues of fiction. Darwin, Bismarck, Gladstone—but even the lesser of us find delight in "a little torturing" in a book or on a stage. So, "Tales of Mystery and Horror" are all right. Proceed. Mr. Level, with the yarn about farm life in happy France:

"The farmer, hearing the sound of his wife's kisses in the wheat, lifted his scythe. The blade leapt up, gleaming white in the sun, came down, and plunged. Two horrible shrieks rang out, two frightful things, two heads bounded up and fell again, bespitting the stalks. "Great stuff," said Mr. Walkley used to say in his criticisms of "La Tosca," "great stuff for Nero and Caligula."

These Three Are Books of Travel

BY ELIA W. PEATTIE.

RICARD CURLE has, as he no doubt would put it, "gone about the world a bit," and he has recorded his impressions and reactions in a book of travel, which he calls "Wanderings" (E. P. Dutton & Co.). Palestine, Egypt, Rhodesia, the West Indies, and various other islands of the sea, the Panama Canal, France, Italy, and many other places have been seen by his understating and sympathy that she translated a lot of them into English. "Blue Eyes," Miss Macklin's inspiration, is about the sweetest of them.

Perhaps Mr. Curle is at his best when he is writing of Africa. There he gives himself over to the mysterious charm of the place and writes as he carried out of his closely guarded moderation. In other words, he ceases to be the consciously discerning British tourist and becomes an enthusiast. Mr. Curle is an enthusiast—the Scotch character. Like all Scots, he is enamored with its integrity, its loyalty, and its patriotism. This is a harmless form of spiritual egotism, and certainly is in stark contrast to the blatant irresponsibility of too many of the aggressive youthful groups of the time.

Frederick Fairchild Sherman of New York publishes the generous volume which Katherine S. Dreier inscribes as "Five Months in the Argentine from a Woman's Point of View." The conviction is becoming ever more deeply seated in the minds of North Americans that they are deplorably and stupidly ignorant of the countries which occupy the southern half of the western continent, and any intelligent traveler who will enlighten us as to the life, taste, the culture, and the politics of any one of those countries is likely to receive a respectful hearing.

The reviewer lacks space to quote some of the impressions and reactions, and can only recommend her book to the curious. But it may be said in passing that she found the Argentine critical of us and inclined to hold us at a distance. It is apparent that Mr. Curle was not in the land of Cuba made no impression upon the minds of our South American Latin. The volume is full of excellent informative matter and aside from a certain scottish predilection which biases some observations, is valuable.

"Intimate Crochet from Petrograd," by Pauline S. Cressley, "wife of a temporary diplomat" is a brave, simple, and matter of fact record of what a woman in a high and comparatively safe position saw and heard during that period of Russia's troubled history when Kerensky was forced to drop his power and one red handed faction after another wielded capricious and passionate government over Russia.

Book Time is Here

Yes, Summer is almost gone.

Folks are returning from the country and seashore.

The children will soon be back in school.

These modern signs presage the coming of Fall storms and Winter cold.

You, like most others, have said many times, "This year I am going to catch up with my reading."

And to make this a reality, it is wise to start early by selecting a few of the new Fall books now being displayed on our shelves and tables.

Really good books, by good writers, are more plentiful this year than ever before, and the variety is so large that you will find any number that will be of interest to you.

Books: Good, Bad and—Different

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

Arthur Symonds' "Leerie" (Dutton) is shot through with a variety of Hel-

Vandat, the murderer. The several remains of Vandat himself repose under the tangled grass of an obscure Parisian graveyard, open to the interment of deceased assassins. What shall poor little Blue Eyes do for flowers with which, on All Saints' day, to decorate her headless lover's lonely sepulcher?

For an illness, following his decapitation, has prevented her from traffic in her frail caresses, and she is within a few days of the cemetery gates are shut. Just as a good artisan returns to his factory, takes up his tools, and starts to work, she mechanically puts her hair, arranges her dress, and begins to wait the streets.

Miss Macklin explains for the benefit of the more provincial among her readers that to her there is nothing "shocking" in this "Leerie," she declares these "happy countries where people accept knowledge of the facts of life as simply as they accept the state of the weather, and in its salaciousness may discuss subjects we others still feel it polite to ignore."

Let us, then, continue to be girl-ly unafraid and unprovincial and to proceed with this story of happy France, just as they would in a French house. Blue Eyes was haggard; the sharp angles of her body showed beneath her cotton dress, and her furtive invitations to romance tempted not even the casual American tourist.

Will It Work in My House?

Your order for NOKOL will not be accepted until our engineers have inspected your property. The radiation, number and size of rooms, construction of the house, and type of heating plant are scientifically analyzed. Unless we are sure that NOKOL will heat your home in extreme weather, you cannot buy it.

NOKOL is readily installed in any type of heating plant, and is approved by the National Board of Fire Underwriters—the only device of its kind that is.

A thermostat upstairs turns the fire on and off, as needed to maintain any predetermined temperature. The operation is entirely automatic.

The approach of cold weather is bringing a great rush of orders. A request for an inspection of your heating plant places you under no obligation.

S-5 CREW SAVED BY SHIRT POKED THROUGH A HOLE

Tied to Wire, Wigwagged
by Imprisoned Men.

An oval about twelve inches by ten inches. Then came the laborious task of cutting away the steel divisions between the holes with a cold chisel. It was 120 a. m. before the drilling and chiseling was completed, and the chief and his first assistant, McWilliams, were able to wrench open the hull of the submarine with a crowbar.

The first member of the crew was taken out of the hole by Grace and McWilliams at 1:45 a. m., and at 2:45 the last man, who was the officer in charge of the S-5, Lieut. Commander C. M. Cooke, emerged safely from the hot hole, where he and the other twenty-nine officers and men had been imprisoned since 2:15 Wednesday afternoon.

Engineer Grace estimated by the rush of heat, which came out of the submarine when the hole was opened out, that the temperature down below must have been fully 150 degrees, and it was made more stifling by the carbon dioxide thrown off from the bodies of the imprisoned crew, which had no outlet.

Two Rescued Men Seriously Ill. Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 3.—Word last two of the men rescued from the submarine S-5 were in a serious condition from inhaling chlorine gas, caused by the mixing of the sea water and sulphuric acid in the submarine, was brought here by the destroyer Billings, one of the vessels which went to the aid of the S-5.

"LITTLE FELLERS" OF ORPHANAGE TO SEE COUNTY FAIR TODAY

The orphaned "little fellers" will find they have many friends today, when a miniature county fair is held for them and their sisters at the Lake Bluff orphanage on the village green at Lake Bluff.

There will be a children's program in the late afternoon, with clowns, blackface comedians, saxophone players, and other features. In the evening there will be a program for grownups. Mrs. William V. Kelley has donated a pony and cart to the fair, and Samuel Russell has given pretty things to be sold for the benefit of the children.

Among the patronesses are Mrs. Hugh J. McBurney, Mrs. William E. Casselberry, Mrs. Laurence H. Armour, Mrs. Alfred L. Baker, Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, Mrs. Louis F. Swift, Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, Mrs. I. Newton Perry, Mrs. Mason Phelps, Mrs. Charles H. Schweppe, Mrs. Charles G. King, Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, Mrs. George E. Marey, Mrs. Stanley Keith, Mrs. Ford Rodman Carter, and Mrs. Robert J. Dunham.

OLDEST COLORED POLICEMAN QUILTS AFTER 37½ YEARS

Policeman Martin V. French, the oldest colored patrolman on the Chicago force, has resigned. He has been a member of the department for thirty-seven and a half years, and took part in many notable police battles and exploits on the south side in the days when the town was admittedly "wide open." At the time of his resignation—with a perfect record—he was attached to the Cottage Grove avenue station.

Pennsylvania VACUUM CUP CORD TIRES

All Brand New Tires—Carry Manufacturer's Guarantee

WE'VE just made a gigantic purchase of Pennsylvania Vacuum Cup Cord Tires. Sturdy construction, generous oversize, and the guaranteed non-skid vacuum cup tread has made them the first choice of motorists who understand tire values—and we're going to sell them at half price. Think of it, at less than you pay for unknown makes of fabrics tires

This makes it possible: The Pennsylvania Rubber Company has slightly changed its method of manufacturing. But slight as the change will be, this progressive firm decided to close out its entire stock of tires now on hand. We bought them. Pennsylvania Vacuum Cup Cord Tires are used in many cities on fire apparatus and on other motor vehicles that require sturdily constructed, sound tires. Take your choice at these unprecedented prices:

PAY RANSOM OR I KILL YANKEE AND BRITON, THREAT

Mexican Bandit Tired of Delay, Reports Say.

Mexico City, Sept. 3.—Pedro Zamora, Jalisco bandit, has threatened to execute W. A. [Sandy] Gardiner, an American citizen, and Bertie C. Johnson, a British subject, kidnapped at Joliet on Aug. 20. This information has been given government authorities by deserting bandits, who say that the ransom may be carried out if the men are not ransomed immediately.

The Esperanza Mining company, which employed Gardiner, has the money ready, upon advice of the United States consul here, but has not been able to communicate with the outlaws.

Bolshevism in Mexico.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—[Special.]—Aguirre Berlanga, Carranza's minister of the interior and cabinet member, has been implicated in the bolshevik movement in Mexico, and "grave accusations" against him are appearing in the Mexico City newspapers.

The recent Campeche outbreak, the Mexico City strikes, and plans to seize Puebla factories have been traced to the movement, which the soviet government of Russia intends to be part of a simultaneous social revolution on the western hemisphere next New Year's day.

GOLDEN TIES

Chicago Pair Who Observe 50th Anniversary in Pasadena.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Bishop.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Bishop will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary today. They were married in Chicago, Sept. 4, 1870. There are four living children: Mrs. Ella M. Westphal of Joliet, William W. J. Edward, and Roy G. Bishop of Chicago. A second daughter died while quite young. There also are six grandchildren.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were born in New York and have for years made their home either in Joliet or Chicago. They are now in South Pasadena, Cal. They had expected to celebrate their anniversary in Chicago, but because of illness of Mrs. Bishop's sister at Pasadena, will be unable to leave. Mr. Bishop will return to Chicago to vote at the general election in November.

FRANK COMERFORD

of The Press Club of Chicago

Lawyer, writer, publicist, who as special prosecutor convicted the Reds last month in one of Chicago's most important criminal trials, and who toured Europe, particularly Russia, and there discovered the international conspiracy to destroy Union Labor in this country and then by Revolutionary means overthrow this government,

Will Be the Orator

Not a political meeting. The Press Club of Chicago has never endorsed a candidate for office and does not indulge in politics. Its members are of all creeds and varieties of political opinion. It is the oldest and largest Press Club in the world and the second oldest club in Chicago, organized in 1879.

Workingmen are urged to attend this meeting. Come with an open mind. Startling disclosures will be made showing the efforts of the Reds to undermine Union Labor and use it for their revolutionary purposes.

Hear Comerford—the consistent friend and advocate of Union Labor for 20 years—talk about these things—the man who knows from first hand knowledge. The best versed man in America on the perils of Bolshevism.

Hon. Ferdinand W. Peck, for the Press Club of Chicago, will introduce Mr. James W. Kline, President of the International Association of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers of America, as Chairman of the meeting.

THIS WILL BE THE MOST IMPORTANT PATRIOTIC MASS MEETING HELD IN CHICAGO SINCE THE CIVIL WAR.

LOOKS BAD FOR DEMPSEY; MISKE IS FEELING 'MEAN'

TRIBUNE DECISIONS

Decisions of The Tribune fight representatives are:
At Cleveland—Jack Britton beat Johnny Tillman (10). Charlie O'Connell knocked out Danny Paves (15).

BY RAY PEARSON.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Sept. 3.—(Special.)—Sitting with Billy Miske on the front porch of his living quarters this afternoon at Eastman Springs, I got a chance to ask him a few questions before he dashed for the ring to box four rounds with his sparring partners, Jack Heinen and Roughhouse Williams. The best time to get a fighter's viewpoint in advance of a battle is about the time he is ready to knock off on the training grind, and that was today. For tomorrow the challenger as well as Champion Jack Dempsey will shut down on the strenuous stuff.

"Well, how do you feel about your chances Monday?" was asked as we got set for the reply to a question which usually isn't happily accepted by a scrapper about ready to enter the ring. But it didn't even ruffle Billy's even temper, for he answered: "This is going to be a fight, and make no mistake about that."

Billy's Feeling "Mean."

"I'm going in there to beat the champion. That's what I'm here for. Say, I'm getting to feel mean. I get that way waiting for a fight, and I suppose the grouchy will increase from now until Monday afternoon."

Both of these fighters who have the business ahead of them of entertaining a huge crowd Monday, which promises to make a gate of something like $150,000, are tapering off. They gave evidence of that today when the training bouts which drew big crowds were cut down to four rounds.

The Miske conversation should not convert any one into thinking that this fight is going to result in victory for the challenger. Billy is sincere and is in fine condition, but that doesn't win, especially if the man to be tackled is of the Jack Dempsey type.

After we talked with Miske and watched him box we hit the trail for the ball park to see Dempsey perform.

Dempsey Camp Confident.

It is definitely impressed on the mind of any one who talks to Dempsey or any one in his camp that fighting Billy Miske isn't considered any different than fighting anybody else. The title of Monday is taken with all seriousness, but no one concerned believes the champion isn't fit and ready to clean up in this match, just as he has cleaned up in nearly all of the others which ultimately put the crown on his head.

The Jack Dempsey of today may not be the Dempsey who defeated Jess Willard, but he is the same great man of the left and right hook. It is true that he isn't shooting his favorite punches at his sparring partners. He is swinging at them most of the time, but when one looks back a little more than a year it will be remembered that he did considerable swinging in his training preparations at Toledo.

But Miske Will Take K. O.

Just as an evidence of how easy public sentiment may swing it should be stated that in some quarters today there was even money betting that Miske would not be able to come up for the eighth round. The general way of doing out the result of the bout is that Dempsey will win regardless of whether the bout goes the limit or whether it is ended by a knockout. That, of course, is the hope as figured out by the big majority of the fellows who are considered wise in pugilism.

The referee question was discussed today and it is understood Jim Dougherty of Philadelphia will be named.

Jack Britton Defeats Tillman in Ten Rounds

Cleveland, O., Sept. 3.—Jack Britton, welterweight champion, decisively outpointed Johnny Tillman of St. Paul in a ten round boxing contest tonight. Charlie O'Connell, Cleveland lightweight, knocked out Danny Paves, also of Cleveland, in the eighth round of a scheduled ten round bout.

MRS. M'NELLIS AND MRS. MIDA IN GOLF FINALS

BY JOE DAVIS.

Mrs. McNellis of Garfield Park and Mrs. Mida of the Edgewood club of La Grange will meet today in the final for the women's open city golf championship at Marquette park. Mrs. McNellis defeated Mrs. M. Aldrich of Marquette, 5 and 4, and Mrs. Mida won from Miss R. Shultz, 3 and 1.

Club Tourney at Midlothian. Midlothian golfers will compete in the first round for the George R. Thorne trophy, emblematic of the club championship, and for the flight cups. Pairings for the championship flight are:

W. S. Hoyt and M. F. Holahan; B. W. Midge Jr. and F. B. Houston; F. M. Worden and H. W. Ray; R. E. Ritchie and A. W. Newton.

Keen Contests at Olympia. Spirited competition marked the approaching and putting contest which was part of the program of the Olympic festival at Olympia Fields. D. W. Wallace, Ralph Hosgood, Dr. A. F. Henning, and F. H. Wals tied at 9 in the initial round. Hosgood and Henning tied at 8 in the second round and finished with the same score on the next playoff. It was too dark to play a fourth.

S. A. Winsor and C. N. Anderson tied for the five blind holes event over the No. 1 course, each getting 23. The holes were Nos. 1, 2, 3, 10, and 12. There was a large crowd out for the other carnival events. Today ten golf events are listed.

RAILROAD CHIEFS CHARGE A REIGN OF SABOTAGE

you have a room—they'd blow up the house if I did. They've told me they would."

Mr. Stuart said his men had interviewed a number of strikers and were convinced they were desperate because they had been deprived of their seniority rights.

"My men find that that is the only grievance they have," Mr. Stuart added. "But the reports I get lead me to believe that the railroads never will have peace until those men either have been restored to their seniority rights or put in jail. They all—or most of them—are working days. But they want their old jobs back on the railroads, and because they can't get them they spend their nights raising hell."

Guerrilla Warfare to Go On.
That the "outlaw" strikers intend to wage a guerrilla warfare against the railroads was indicated by a canvass of the leaders of the radical element.

Tom Carey, William Seigel, Fred

C. Herle, William Reedy, William Robinson, Bert Cassidy, "Red" Feeney, Edward Flynn, and a number of others made no bones about saying that "the roads will be glad to take the old men back with their senior standing behind this is over."

At the meeting yesterday in the old Pabst gardens, Hamilton avenue and Madison street, where the "outlaws" have their headquarters, sabotage was the talk. Scholage was the talk in the saloons at Grand and Chicago avenues; at Fulton street and Western avenue, and at Lake street and Western avenue.

At Madison street and Western avenue in Gazzoli's saloon a score of "outlaw" strikers discussed the advisability of "turning a few more loose tomorrow."

Six Arrested Men Give Bond.
Six of the seven men arrested after the Milwaukee train was turned loose Thursday night were released in bonds of $1,000 each. One was unable to find a bondsman.

That a "sluggers" war may develop was indicated last night when employees in the various terminal yards started raising a fund to employ "sluggers" to "get an outlaw union official for every man slugged."

John Jaha, a Northwestern railroad fireman, was slugged by seven supposed "outlaw" union men at Kedzie avenue and Lake street last night. He was taken to Washington boulevard hospital, suffering from scalp wounds.

COLORADO SHOWS GAIN OF 145,325 FOR TEN YEARS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 3.—With a numerical increase of 145,325 in the last ten years, Colorado showed a growth since 1910 of only a little more than half of that made in the previous ten years. The census bureau today gave the state 939,376 inhabitants.

Two Days' Work in One

As Viewed by Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip

"I have often preached to young men that if they are going to make a success of life, they have two days' work to do every day. One, the day's work they are paid for; the other, a day's work in preparation for something better and larger. That is what you are doing in these evening classes—putting in your second day's work in preparation for larger responsibilities, and I can predict success for you if you follow the course of study through, as a better preparation for the work to come."

From an address delivered by Mr. Frank A. Vanderlip to the students of the Northwestern University School of Commerce, April 2, 1920.

Northwestern University School of Commerce offers the following courses of training in business:

Accounting
Business Law
Banking and Finance

Directed by Alan Crosland.
Presented at the State-Lake.

THE CAST.
Majorie Thornicroft, Elaine Hammerstein
David Baldwin, Rockwell Feathers
Dallas Hays, Arthur Hays Sulzberg
Lorraine Thorne, Ruth Hunsley
Aunt Caroline, Helen Lindroth
Maitland Thorne, Corbin Cook
Thorne's Son, Warren Cook

By Mae Tinée.
Now that Elaine Hammerstein has come to life, she has taken a niche in the gallery of the famous. Her first production showed her up, more or less, as a sleepwalker. She was slow of movement and slow of expression. But she's awake now and is, if you ask us, considerable of an actress. She hasn't any remarkable vehicle in "The Point of View." Old story of the lovely and needy damsel who marries a wealthy westerner to save her proud family from want and give her brother a musical education.

She doesn't love the rich westerner, but, being a true sport, manages to conceal the fact admirably. He doesn't even dream his bride is a bird in a gilded cage until a bit of indiscreet conversation drifts his way. Then he strides forth from his own front door, intending to go back west and leave his wife with grounds of desertion and a chance to marry some pinhead who will make her happy.

But—as the bride sees his coat tails vanish—she knows. He's the only man she ever loved, in spite of his money. And she does a Babe Ruth and catches him before he reaches the bottom of the steps. Whiskers on that plot, aren't there?

Just the same, the story gives Miss Hammerstein opportunity to look beautiful and act appealingly, and because she has a pretty good supporting cast, etc., "The Point of View" turns out not to be so bad after all—looking at it from one point of view.

SCREEN NOTE

For some reason, known to the gods and Mr. Griffith, his picture, "The Love Flower," will not open tomorrow afternoon at the Studebaker.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Pan Popovers.
At least one of my readers has been interested recently in the cooking of that thinnest of batters which is made of one cup of flour, one cup of milk, a pinch of salt and two eggs. Baked in sizzling hot and buttered popovers it makes popovers, or sort of two layer unsweetened cake cakes which some people treat like a cream puff, sprinkling with sugar for a dessert instead of a hot breakfast bread.

Some people pour that same batter into the sizzling hot dripping under a roast of beef, baste it from time to time with the dripping, and get what they call Yorkshire pudding.

Other people make a pancake out of this, or what is also called a flour omelet. The batter is also used as a frying fat for sweet things cooked in deep fat. And if we look sharply we shall find that some of the most thrifty makers of fritters add a pinch of something harder than this for their sprightly products.

Now all this surely suggests that there is certainly a pretty art in baking such a batter, using that term in its widest meaning, which includes baking on a griddle, etc. Suppose we take the ingredients of this batter and make first of the flour and milk a perfectly smooth paste, using the egg beater if necessary; then fold into it the beaten eggs; and add two tablespoons of melted butter.

Have ready two tin pie plates, preferably with sloping sides, greased and hot, and bake in hot oven, cooking two or three times, with hot butter. Lessen fire sharply last (teen of the thirty minutes of cook). Get something like a mountain in a deep crater or a valley with a tall of even height all the way around it.

Lowe my fine complexion to Resinol Soap
The soothing, healing in Resinol Soap combined with its freedom from harsh, irritating qualities, gives to red, rough and pimply complexions that whiteness and velvety softness which women crave. It stimulates the skin while cleansing it.

A skin washed only with Resinol soap is usually a skin to be proud of. When the skin is in really bad condition, spread on just a little Resinol Ointment for ten minutes before using Resinol Soap. Resinol Soap is sold by all druggists.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondent.]—Leather is used to trim suits and it is the elected form of ornamentation of many of the smartest top coats. Thus the above model of tan cloth is given distinction by an almost seamless striping of brown suede leather. A particularly effective playground for these stripes is made by the sleeves, which are noteworthy in cut and arrangement. The wrap shows the tendency to the bygone silhouette noted in some coats brought from Paris.

During a Pause.
One Sunday morning in church my little daughter was behaving badly. She would not remain quiet during the sermon, but persistently turned around to look at people, and naturally made a little commotion.

I was nearly at my wit's end as how to keep her still, so I pinched her lightly. To my mortification she shouted in the loudest of tones, "Ouch, mamma, that hurts." She said it just during a pause in the sermon, so that it was heard all over the church. I never was so ashamed in my life. J.S.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Most Certainly!

"Dear Miss Blake: Is it altogether improper for a girl of 19 or 20 to allow her gentleman friend to hold her hand or put his arm around her? Y.B."

If he is just a "gentleman friend" (painful expression) hands off!

Bright Sayings of Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsolicited contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Aunt Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Ted was visiting his aunt and cousin. Much to his disgust they failed in their numerous attempts to spin his new top. In the evening a young man called and spun it at the first throw. Ted looked at him and said, "All mans can spin tops." E.W.

Donald was anxious to own a dog. One day he dashed into the house in great excitement. "Smiths have nine new pups," he said. "Some of them are fullblooded."

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

"Gee!" he said, "I wish I had my hat on."
"Why?" asked his playmate.
"Cause then by and by I could take it off, and wouldn't it feel cool?" T.N.

SPORTING GOODS WHEAT FLOUR OF SHARPI

BY AL CHASE.
One of South Clark street's dingy old bars is to make way for a new sports ing goods store, remodeled and brightened at a cost of $25,000. The Fair Play Sporting Goods company has leased, for the $2500 rent, a building from Sloan A. Pritchard and Sons, 1144 Curtiss of Cleveland and Ben J. Greenbaum of Chicago for ten years. The Sept. 1 at a term rental of $110,000.

All parties were represented by Edgar
C. Hester of Chicago.

The rental is so much higher than the former leases that the owners were able to pay the present tenants bonuses to compensate their loss, so as to give immediate possession to the new lessees. The space will be used as the headquarters of the principal cities of the middle west.

The break was in the fact that the large of grain houses being in the fact and that two small cash businesses were unable to take their share. There was a great deal of talk over nothing for a short time.

Wheat Futures Advanced

Local futures advanced 67c to 70c from

GOVERNMENT IS HOPELESS

LONDON, Sept. 4.—[By Associated Press.] — The strike of metal workers, who have taken possession of the workshops, has formed that the employers pay them no wages this week, said a Reuters dispatch from Rome.

Minister of Labor Labriola declared to be still hopeful about an understanding between metal workers and their employers.
